5. BEST PRACTICES, INNOVATION DISTINCTIVENESS

a. Best Practices Description & Outcome of Best Practices

I. BEST PRACTICE 01:

Comprehensive support system for holistic development of students

The institute is dedicated to fostering the holistic development of students by providing a comprehensive support system through all stakeholders. Led by trained teachers, various clubs, units, and societies offer numerous opportunities for growth, promoting intellectual growth through skill-building activities, social growth via community engagement, emotional growth by enhancing soft skills, and personal growth through networking opportunities. Additionally, students develop essential life skills through department-organized activities throughout the academic session. This comprehensive support system provides various platforms for the all-round development of students' personality.

Moreover, the Alumni association and Parent-Teacher Association play a vital role in recognizing and providing necessary facilities in the college in the interests of students like opening of library and reading room in the hostel, students' support center beside the college campus and providing bus services from the hostel to the students.

II. Best Practice No. 2:

Adoption of advanced Teaching- learning methodologies

The college employs dynamic teaching-learning methodologies that emphasize engaging, interactive, and flexible approaches to education, fostering student-centered learning and promoting critical thinking. Believing in evolving pedagogy to benefit students, the college administration encourages teachers to update their knowledge through orientation / refresher/ faculty development or short-term programmes. The administration has introduced new facilities that support innovative teaching methods. Teachers now focus on project-based learning, gamification, and collaborative learning through group projects and peer interactions. Practical learning is further enhanced through hands-on activities, field trips, and social interactions, all aimed at developing problem-solving skills and critical thinking. This comprehensive approach ensures that students are actively involved in their learning process, making education both practical and impactful.
